Cover art adapted from item 20

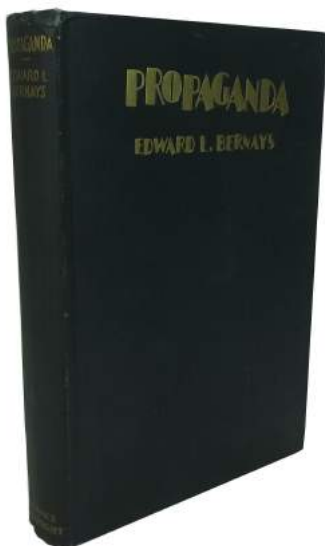

[01] [Gilbart, J.W.] Logic for the Million: A Familiar Exposition of the Art of Reasoning. London: Longman, Brown, Green and Longmans, 1851. Second Edition. 8vo. Hardback. Good. xii, 380pp, [4], 32pp adverts, original cloth. Spine faded, discolouring to top edge of covers. Lower hinge cracked and a little weak but holding, text fairly bright and clean. Gilbart was a banker and author, there appear to have been at least six editions by 1860 [002392] £25.00

[02] [Winans, James Albert] Studies in Rhetoric and Public Speaking - In Honor of James Albert Winans By Pupils and Colleagues. New York: The Century Co., 1925. First Edition. 8vo. Hardback. Limited Edition. Good+ / No Jacket. [10], 299pp, [1], original cloth. Rubbed to extremities, pages lightly browned. One of four hundred copies, this being number one hundred and sixty-eight [002366] £35.00

[03] Beck, L.J. The Method of Descartes - A Study of the Regulae. Oxford: Clarendon Press, 1970. Reprint. 8vo. Hardback. Very Good / Good. x, 316pp, original cloth in DJ. DJ spine slightly browned, couple of small nicks to edges, internally quite bright and clean [002362] £15.00

[04] Bernays, Edward L. Propaganda. New York: Horace Liveright, 1928. First Edition. 8vo. Hardback. Good / No Jacket. [8], 9-159pp, [1], original cloth. Title, author and publisher in gilt to spine, title and author in gilt to upper cover. Slightly rubbed to extremities, pages lightly browned. Previous owners ink name stamp to title and bottom margin of page 158, some underlining to pages 9, 10, 20, 25, 28, 31 and 83, but nothing too obtrusive. According to John Stauber and Sheldon Rampton, in a published review of Larry Tye's biography of Bernays, "it is impossible to fundamentally grasp the social, political, economic and cultural developments of the past 100 years without some understanding of Bernays and his professional heirs in the public relations industry. PR is a 20th-century phenomenon, and Bernays widely eulogized as the 'father of public relations' at the time of his death in 1995 played a major role in defining the industry's philosophy and methods" (Quoted on Wikipedia) [002396] £950.00

[05] Booth, Wayne C. Critical Understanding - The Powers and Limits of Pluralism. Chicago: The University of Chicago Press, 1979. First Edition. 8vo. Hardback. Very Good / Good. ISBN: 0226065545. xiii, [1], 408pp, original cloth in DJ. DJ slightly rubbed to extremities, spine slightly faded, internally quite bright and clean [002360] £15.00

[06] Bradley, F.H. Essays on Truth and Reality. Oxford: Clarendon Press, 1968. Reprint. 8vo. Hardback. Very Good / No Jacket. xvi, 480pp, original cloth. Couple of small light marks to spine, Foyles label to front pastedown, otherwise bright and clean [002383] £20.00

[07] Bradley, F.H. The Principles of Logic. London: Oxford University Press, 1928. Second Edition. 8vo. Hardback. Good / No Jacket. Two volumes complete - Volume One - xxviii, 388pp and Volume Two - [6], 389-739pp, [1]. Original cloth. Slightly rubbed to extremities, pages lightly browned but clean. The second edition, 'corrected impression', the first being published in 1883, and the second in 1922. Bradley (1846-1924), "makes it clear both in his 'Principles of Logic' (1883) and 'Appearance and Reality' that the thinking subjects he is concerned with are irreducibly sentient creatures, human and otherwise, living their lives in what he calls 'our real world': in other words, in the world of geographical space and historical time which a normal adult human being will be able to think of, at any waking moment, as containing its body and its activities present, past, and future, bodily and otherwise" (ODNB) [002379] £40.00

[08] Davidson, William L. The Logic of Definition: Explained and Applied. London: Longmans, Green & Co., 1885. First Edition. 8vo. Hardback. Good / No Jacket. xxiv, 353pp, [1], original cloth, patterned endpapers. Damp stain to head of lower cover, spine slightly faded, rubbed to extremities, small tear to cloth at foot of spine. Small damp stain to head of last five or so pages, otherwise quite bright and clean [002384] £50.00

[09] Emerson, Harrington. The Twelve Principles of Efficiency. New York: The Engineering Magazine, 1912. First Edition. 12mo. Hardback. Presentation Copy. Very Good / No Jacket. xviii, 423pp, [5], adverts, original cloth. Minor rubbing to extremities, previous owners name to head of ffep, otherwise quite bright and clean. Presentation copy from the author to a Miss M.E. Pennington from whom he "learned about refrigeration". Emerson (1853-1931) "was one of America's pioneers in industrial engineering and management and organizational theory.

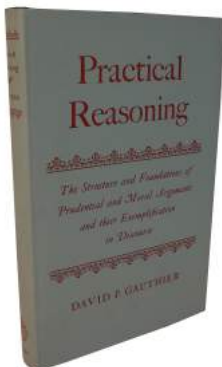

His major contributions were to install his management methods at many industrial firms and to promote the ideas of scientific management and efficiency to a mass audience. One of the most erudite and cosmopolitan personalities associated with the scientific management movement, Emerson established a modestly successful consulting business as an efficiency engineer, an author of books on industrial efficiency, and a promoter and popularizer of the movement" (Harrington Emerson Papers at Penn State University) [002367] £125.00

[10] Fischer, David Hackett. Historians' Fallacies - Towards a Logic of Historical Thought. London: Routledge and Kegan Paul, 1971. First Edition. 8vo. Hardback. Good / Good. ISBN: 0710070365. xxii, 338pp, original cloth in DJ. DJ rubbed to extremities with minor creasing, closed tear to head of spine, lower panel lightly soiled. A few instances of neat highlighting to introduction, otherwise clean [002355] £20.00

Good+ / No Jacket. xii, 200pp, original cloth. Spine slightly faded, minor rubbing to extremities, internally some light browning but clean. "Whitehead's contributions to relativity, gravitation, and 'unified field' theory grew out of his preoccupations with the principles underlying our knowledge of nature. These philosophical considerations are presented chiefly in 'An Enquiry Concerning the Principles of Natural Knowledge' (1919), 'The Concept of Nature' (1920), and 'The Principle of Relativity' (1922)" (DSB:XIV:305). See DSB:XIV:302-310 [002376] £100.00

[36] Whitehead, Alfred North. Process and Reality - An Essay in Cosmology. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1929. First Edition. 8vo. Hardback. Good / No Jacket. xxiii, [1], 509pp, [1], original cloth. Rubbed to extremities, especially head of spine and corners, pages lightly browned but clean. Whitehead returned to Britain from the US and gave the 1928-29 Gifford Lectures, " which were published in 1929 under the title Process and Reality, an Essay in Cosmology, may be regarded as the definitive exposition of his mature philosophy, to which he gave the name 'philosophy of organism' but which is commonly referred to as 'process philosophy'. Process philosophy contrasts with the tradition of substance philosophy which began with Descartes and which, characterized by the dualism of mind and matter, made knowledge problematic and thus brought epistemology to the centre of philosophical discussion. Whitehead challenges this centrality when he says that problems which are apparently epistemological have their origin in the Cartesian metaphysics of substance which, influenced as it was by the physics of its day, needs to be reassessed in the light of twentieth-century scientific thought" (ODNB). See DSB:XIV:302-310 [002377] £75.00
