[01] [Broadside]. The Public Having Been Informed That a Petition from 'Burgesses and Householdors' of Marlborough, Has Been Presented to the House of Commons Complaining of Intimidation at the Late Elections for This Borough.... Marlborough: [Printed by] Emberlin and Harold, First Edition. Folio. Unbound. Broadside. Good+. Printed broadside, approximately 210mm x 340mm, n.d. c.1832? Some minor wear, one name marked and entered in ink, crease and small stain to bottom right hand corner. Presents the names of the signatories of the petition, 'for the information of the town', within an attractive border. The printers were active at this address between 1830 and 1842 according to the BBTI. Uncommon, not found on COPAC £45.00

An attempt to legally justify the plantation of Ulster

[02] [Davies, Sir John]. A Discoverie of the True Causes Why Ireland Was Never Entirely Subdued, Nor Brought Under Obedience of the Crowne of England, Untill the Beginning of His Majesties Happie Raigne. London: [W. Jaggard] for John Jaggard, 1612. First Edition. 8vo. Full Calf. Good+. [4], 1-186, 189-287pp, [1], Later full calf, raised bands, spine in six panels, title label to second panel, remaining panels with central lozenge shaped tool in gilt, covers with double fillet gilt border. Recently rebaced to style. Minor rubbing to extremities. Text block slightly cropped at head. Internally some minor browning and staining, but generally fairly bright. Lacks A1, which is blank apart from the signature letter 'A' to foot, small flaw to title catching fore-edge, with an ink number '3' to title, the head of G1 has '35 comes after 50' in ink (a legacy of signature G being bound before F - now rectified), the final page is blank (sometimes found with errata). Sir John Davies, "firmly believed that the successful government of Ireland could not be achieved through military conquest alone, but depended instead on laying the legal foundations for a civil society ... From 1606 he was busy with the management of the work deriving from the establishment of the commissions for defective titles and the implementation of arrangements for the surrender and regrant of lands by tenants of the crown. This was a crucial element in his long-standing campaign to entrench the full-scale operation of property law in Ireland as the bulwark of English rule, and was designed specifically to undermine and finally to abolish Gaelic para-legal forms of land tenure and inheritance which were much more fluid, based on kinship and the sept, and the tribal allegiances underpinning them ... Davies was long absorbed in the establishment of the new plantation ... In all he obtained 5500 acres ... In 1612 he published his 'Discoverie of the True Causes Why Ireland was Never Entirely Subdued nor brought under obedience of the crown of England until his Majesties Happie Reigne', which argued for the full establishment of a system of law based on land rather than blood" (ODNB) It was this use of the law which apparently brought Ireland "back within the fold of civilization" (Oxford History of the Irish Book, Volume III, page 254) £2,500.00

[03] [Helps, Sir Arthur]. The Claims of Labour - An Essay on the Duties of the Employers to the Employed - To Which is Added an Essay on the Means of Improving the Health and Increasing the Comfort of the Labouring Classes. London: William Pickering, 1845. Second Edition. 12mo. Full Calf. Good+. vii, [1], 288pp, later full calf, raised bands, spine in six panels, leather title label to second panel, remaining panels with volute corner pieces and flower heads to centres, covers with single fillet bordering a blind seed head roll and flower corner pieces, gilt roll to edges and inner edges, marbled endpapers and all edges marbled. Slightly rubbed to extremities, some minor discolouring to head of lower cover. Head of ffep and reverse of front marbled endpaper water stained, previous owners' name to reverse of front marbled endpaper, otherwise quite bright and clean. Kress C6620; Goldsmiths 34375; Keynes, page 70 and Einaudi 2873 £80.00

[04] [Howell, James]. [Greek Title] Dendrologia - Dodona's Grove, or the Vocall Forrest. ill. Merian, M.[atthaeus]. London: T.[homas] B. [adger] for H. Mosley, 1640. First Edition. 4to. Full Calf. Good. [12], 32, 39-135, 166-219pp, [1]; (pi2, A2, a2, B-2A4). Later full calf, smooth back, spine divided into six panels by gilt rules, leather title label to second panel, remaining panels with central flower head gilt device. Rubbed, slightly chipped to head of spine, corners bumped, split across spine towards bottom of the fifth panel. Internally some chipping to fore-edge of title, cropped to head generally, not affecting text, but title cropped unevenly to head catching typographic border. Bottom left hand corner of title with paper repair, A and a with paper repairs to gutter. X with several tears to gutter catching text but with no loss of sense, X2 with hole catching text to recto and verso with loss of text and slight loss of sense, last three gatherings with tiny hole to gutter margin, small repair to double page engraving of trees, occasional explanatory notes to margins in ink in an old hand. Previous owner's armorial bookplate to front pastedown (Vane Londonderry). With engraved frontispiece, vignette title and double page engraving of trees. This copy does not have an engraved portrait (not called for) that is sometimes found bound in. Howell is probably best known for his Epistolae Ho-Eliae: Familiar Letters, published in 1645. Engravings are by Matthaeus Merian. Dodona's Grove is a political allegory about events in Europe in the early seventeenth century, Lowndes derides it as "tiresome and silly ... written in a most wretchedly bombastic style", but it was reprinted in 1641, 1645 and 1649, with a second part published in 1650, there was also a Latin edition in 1646 and a French edition in 1641. Pforzheimer 512; CBEL I:2226; Lowndes 1129 £450.00
